a. GRENADA

Honorable Gregory Bowen, Minister of Finance presents $1.3B budget for 2022

On Friday 26th November 2021, the Grenada government presented an EC$1.3 billion budget to parliament, overshadowed by the impact of the coronavirus (COVID-29) pandemic.

Finance, Economic Development, Physical Development, and Energy Minister, Honorable Gregory Bowen told legislators that the country is in a “fight...literally and figuratively, as we combat an unseen enemy that threatens our very existence and our means of survival”. He promised Grenadians that the Keith Mitchell administration was “battle-ready” adding “we have weathered many storms before and we are resilient”

He said the 2022 budget strategy, therefore aims to address these challenges and provides for a total expenditure, including amortization of EC$1.35 billion with recurrent revenue pegged at EC$722.2 million and current expenditure estimated at EC$661.7 million.

Minister Bowen said that with a deficit projected for 2022, the government will need EC$98 million more financing than that expected from domestic revenues and grants, to meet all of its obligations. He also told legislators that due to “our fiscal responsibility and the tremendous sacrifices made by the people of this country, we have already identified the funding to fully close this gap”.
